AN AFFECTING INCIDENT OF THE WAR.-In September, 1863, the steamer R. Campbell, on its way down the Mississippi, when opposite Milliken's Bend, Louisiana, was found to be on fire. It was at once hoaded toward the eastern bank of the river. But the Same spread so rapidly that, before it reached the shore, all on board were obliged to who never allows his patience to be throttled spring into the stream. About thirty of them band, as she stated, had been killed in the army. She had with her a flaxen-headed daughter, probably four years old. Sue may have had other children. She was sick, and unable to leave her bed; the child, amid the confusion, got npon the deck, and, seeing others jump into the water, asked a soldier i' she must do so too. The soldier lost aight of her, but when he reached the shore found her lying apparently dead upon the heach. He took her to a fire near by, and warmed and chaffed

Ler until she came to. After awhile a host coming up the river landed and took the survivors across to the camp of the 2d Mississippi regiment, stationed at Milliken's Bend. Major John F. Robinson, of that regiment, saw the soldier leading the ild, dripping wet, and invited him into his ent, gave him his breakfast, and received the child from him. The child thus providentially cast upon his care, the Major, though a young man, resolved to adopt, if its relatives could not be found, and rear it as his own. Being unable to keep it properly in camp, ho sent it to his parents in Ashland, Ohio. The child's name, es sho gives il, is Mary Jane Hanson, or llampsted. Sometime after the borning of the boat, gentleman, searching for the body of a broth r lost at the same time, found that of a woman which he supposed to be the body of this child's mother. He had it huried, and took a specimen of the dress and cloak and a purse with a copper advertisement of a business firm in New Castle, Indiana. The child is well and with the parents of Major Robinson. Should this meet the eye of any one connected with the family thus cut off, they can obtain information of the child by addressing either Major J. F. Robinson, 31 Mississippi regiment, A. C., Milliken's Bend, Liuisiana, or Rev. John Robinson, Ashland, Ohio. If any person who may see this can give any information in regard to the family of this child it will by thankfully received by either of the above pulled.

KNONVILLE BEFORE TIL WAR -- Knonville, Tenn., is the oldest city of that State-was named for Gen. Knox, who was Secretary of War at the time the city was laid out, in 1793, and ten thousand bushels of newspapers. It is situated on high bluffs of the Ilolston River, below its confluence with French Broad | Though necessarily enormous, have, not withiver. It was well supplied with handsome houses, hotels, and private residences; among its public edifices, the State Asylum for the Deat and Dumb was especially worthy of note. The University of East Ten-caused by obstructions on the road, there ac-cumulated at this office over thirty bashels of nessee, founded in 1807, more remarkable for its beautiful location than architectural elegance, etood ou an eminence which commands an extensive view in every direction.

It is of great military importance at the present time, as it commands the river and zurrounding country, and is at the head of river navigation-though in high water boats ascend to Kingsport. Nashville and Bowling Green, which have become celebrated on account of their excellent military positions, are placea of secondary importance compared with Knoxville. Then there are a sort of neighboring bluffs which encircle the town proper, all of which glisten with National canuon, aud you can imagine what an important barrier the Holston is.

At the present time the city is one immense hospital, very few of the sick and wounded having heen removed. The hotels and churches, as a general thing, serve as hospitals, and the streets, being very narrow, are extremely filthy.

The New York Herald's Washington correspondence saya the forthcoming Democratic Notional Address will take strong ground in favor of the vigorous prosecution of the war for the suppression of the rehellion, and for furnishing all the men and means necessary for that object, and the re-establishment of the authority of the Constitution over the whole conrtry.

Some very amusing incidents of this character, and some very ludicrons coincidences, have come under my observation.

In a lot of letters that came a few days since to a prominent official in the city was one from a lady North, asking that the personal effects of a near relative who had fallen in battle should be forwarded to a certain address. The folly of these people in annoying men rhose duties demand their whole atteution, with questions and requests so irrelevant, may be seen at a glance. An ordnance officer, rovost Marshal, or Quartermaster, have nite a sufficiency of business and trouble, without devoting time in attending to matters so foreign to their duties, and which should never be introduced. How should these offinever be introduced. How should these offi-cers know anything of the effects of strangers who have unfortunately lost their lives in the service. Though in a country often infested with bands of gnerillas and robbers, and exposed to the dangers incident to river life, our river men so lar have not only manifested great activity, but have shown themselves competent to meet any emergency. The fate of the army in East Tennessee depends upon the successful navigation of the river to this point. ANOTEER UPTRAGE -We learn from the Memphis Journal of the 27th that the miserable vagabonds that prowl about on the oppusite side of the river from that place have added another act of villainy to their already lengthy list of crimes. A few days since some ten or fifteen guerillas visited the plantation ol Gen. Brndley, about twenty miles ato re the city, and carried things with a high hand. After taking what they wanted in the wey of stock, poultry, edihles, &c., they went out iuto a field back of the residence and set fire to a cuib containing three thousand hushels of corn, and consumed every grain of it.

Kulled by Guenillas .- An engineer on the Memphia and Charleston Railroad, named Charles Anderson, was killed on Monday evening of last week by a party of some fitty gnerillas, who fired several volleys at the train as it was passing some ten miles this side of Pocahoutas, coming toward Memphis. We understand that the unfortunate man received some fourteen shots in his body. He leaves a wife and two children, who were enlirely dependent on his labor for sapport.

Confenerate Paisoners .- Twenty prisoners, captured in the vicinity of Duck river, were brought to Nashvillo on Friday evening. Among them were Lieut.-Col. J. Brewer, of Forres.'s command; Lieut. W. J. Shaunon, 3d Tennessee; Lieut. T. B. Smith, 42d Teouessee; Lieut. J. Il. Coleman, of llawkins's regiment; and Lients. Wm. Early and J. H. Carathers, of the Confederate army. The 8th lows ceptured the above squad.

FRUIT PROSEECTS .- We learn from some of onr horticulturists that the peach buds have seen destroyed by the late cold spell, and that the young pench trees in the nurseries have chared the samo fate, which is much to be regretted, as a large number would have been Gates had 40 men.

KENTUCKY REPRESENTATIVES IN THE REBEL Congress.-A convention of straggling Kentuckians at Dalton, Gs., met about a couple of weeks sgo and nominated a ticket to represent Kentucky in the Richmond Congress. Subsequently, that is, on the 27th of January, a meeting, announced as a meeting of Morgan's men, at Decatur, Ala., passed resolutions ignoring the Dalton convention, and nominated a ticket of their own, which, however, is said to have sdopted one-half of the nominees of the Dalton concern. The nominees of the John Morgan convention are as follows: Ist District—W. B. Machen; 2d District—John D. Morris; 3d District—G. J. Shuritt; 4th Dist.—J. R. Barick; 5th Dist.—Thomas Napier; 6th Dist.—T. L. Buraett; 7th Dest.—H. W. Price; 8th Dist.—J. T. Pickett; 9th Dist.—E. M. Brucc; 10th Dist.—J. W. Moore; 11th Dist.—J. M. Elliot.

This is certainly about as broad and wretch. ceiving the grateful recognition of the national ed a farce as ever was played even upon the authorities. rebel stage. The rebels know that they have not the shadow of a pretext for pretending that Kentucky, by vote or conquest or other wise, has ever gone or been dragged into their Confederacy, and yet, a couple of years | doubt of his zeal or untiring vigilance. And now we have here another rebel Congressional ticket for Kentucky, nominsted in this place, makes quite an important retracn little town of Alabama by John Morgan's composing if, not one of whom would dare to enter the District for which he is nominated government. The Editors of the Gazette, unless during one of Morgan's horse raids, will go to Richmond, and, like their predecessors, take part, as pseudo Representatives of Kentucky, in enscting laws for the whole South. Well, if the rebel Confederacy can stand it, certainly Kentucky can. If the rebels are willing, before the eyes of all the world, to be thus gulled, tricked, duped, chested, diddled, it is their own business, and Kentucky will not make it hers unless she shall get her hand upon some of the imposters pretending to represent her, or upon those who nominated them.

The Earl of Warwick was called the Kingmaker, and John Morgan the Grand Rabel Equerry, or Master of llorse, aspires to be Corgress-maker.

The inference is inexensable. The Gazette in this little matter shows either shameful obtuse-ness or shameful unfairness. Somehody proposes that we raise at once three millions of men to go through the whole South and carry everything before 2hem. We wonder whether he has considered how we are to subsist three millions of men in the South. Perhaps he had better find out how we are to subsist one million before he talks of subsisting three millions. What a bity that realms can't be conquered on paper! What a saving of blood, food, and forage it would be!

President Lineoln has violated his faith, and Congress has violated its faith. Both have set the Constitution at defiance in the prosecution of the war. This is no injustice that a Senator should be elected, and he should to those rebels who, of their own choice, are an arms against the Union, but it is a tremendons injustice to all loyal and law-nbiding men throughout our country.

The observation of Senator Mallory that "we had not touched the question yet," was ingenuously true. Senanation of Mr. Betty is very nearly ample, and the gentleman from Mason had moved the previous question, but the Senate got to a vote on it at last, and ordered the main question by a vote of 22 to 10, when it was evolved that Senator Sampson's motion was the main question, but just at that moment

The clock struck one, The monse cume down Dickery, Dickery Blook said "he could sapport no man for office, the | and the United States scuatorial election was distinctive feature of whose platform was the | jut in chancery for another day. I hope the cant, that, if the nigger stands between him | galaxy of ladies who graced 'he Senate chamber on this occasion received some illuminating influences from the scintillating wit and corrulcating legislative pyrotechuy of these 'most potent, grave, and reveread signors." The Sennte was next engaged on the bill to incorporate the Falls City Bank, which was so leaded with amendments, that Senators Gianger and Mallory, as the friends of the bill, moved to re-commit it to the Committee on Banks, which was adopted.

Lieut. Gov. Jacob has issued his writ, as Speaker of the Senste, for an election in the Seventeenth Senatorial District, to supply the vacancy created by the death of Judge M. P. Buster. The district comprises the counties of l'ulaski, Wayne, and Clinton, and the election is fixed for Monday, February 8th. We had no hop last night, but there was some delightful singing in the ladies' parlor. There will be a hop on Thursday evening, which it is supposed will be the chief brilliant in the session's crown. If any Louisville ladies care to enter the tournament of beauty with the girls of the Bluegrass R gion, let them come on, and I will show fair play.

THE SURRENDER OF SCOTTSVILLE-GALLANT AND DESPERATE RESISTANCE - REBEL OUT-RACES-THE TOWN PLUNDERED AND FIRED BY THE GUERILLAS-PANTICULARS OF THE RAID.-We learn by private letter from Scottsville, under date of the 30th ult., the particulars of the late raid on that place. Captain J. D. Gillum, with his company of rilla bands.

Tho guerillas, numbering between four and fivo hundred, under command of the rebel the attack on the night of the 27th alt., yelling | cordial greeting when they arrive. like so many fiends broke loose from pandevictor, but in this they were sorely disappointed, for Captsin Gillum met them with a desperate and bloody resistance. The terday to back in the sunshine of the smiles Captain gathered bis little force in the Court- and greetings of the "girls they left behind house, and fought them bravely for upwards of an hour, when his ammunition gave out, and he found that they had fired the town at different points.

Under these circumstances, Captain Gillum capitulated with the rebel Colonel Hughes, who solemnly agreed that the property of citizens should be respected, and that there would be no departure on their part from the rules of civilized warfare during their occupation of the town. They no sooner got possession of the place, however, than the usual pillaging and robbery of stores and residences commenced, and everything that they could lay their hands upon of value was appropriated. Not satisfied with these outrages, in wiolation of their pledge, the clerk's office was broken into and the public documents mutilated and destroyed, after which they fired the building, together with the court-house. By the almost superbuman exertions of the citizens, however, the flames were extinguished. and a portion of the buildings and records Baved.

They broke open the jail, and released two of their gang who were under indictment for murder. The amount stoleu from the citizens will reach $30,000. They seemed to be possessed of a devilish disposition to mutilate and destroy everything that they could not carry off with them, and the damages inflicted will be sorely felt by the citizens of Scottsville. They made a desperate nttompt to burn the jail, but were thwarted in their cellish design by the united efforts of our soldiers and the citizens.

Scottsville has been pillaged several times by guerillus, and the county roboed of most of the valuable property it contained before the war. We are not a little surprised that such an important point should be left so exposed to the ravages of guerillas. The people of that place have time and again appealed to our authorities for adequate protection, but all to no purpose. The supply of ammunition was even scanty, and that of itself would have forced a surrender. We hope that the appeals of the sufferers from this raid will not be mnde in vain hereafter. A force of 500 men should be stationed at Scottsville immedi-GIERILLA OUTHAGES IN OWEN COUNTY-

BUSHWHACKING AT WORK AGAIN .- The gang who lately broke open the jail in Owen county, and released one of Morgan's men a few weeks aince, have been roaming through Owen and adjoining counties, committing all manner of depredations, and filing the citizens of that section with terror. About two weeks ago this party robbed a gun-shop at New Liberty, carrying off a number of fine double-barrelled guns, and a large lot of pistols. On Thursday last a portion of the gang concealed themselves in the woods bordering on Grant county for the purpose of assassinating officer George Simpson and two men who were with bim. When the unsusnecting men concealed, they were opened upon with a terrific volley of musketry at short range, and it was almost miraculous that they succeeded in good horses, however, they soon put them-Belves ont of range of the fire of these fiends in human shape. We are credibly informed that there are two nds of guerillas infesting that portion of tate. One of the gangs is under the notorious alose Webster, and they are stealing a great number of horses from the farmers in that section. These villains are carrying on a regular guerilla waifare, and Union iuen are afraid to travel in the county. A citizen of Owen county informs us that they are feted and harbored by rebel sympathizers, who give them every encouragement at their command. and extend to them the hospitalities of their

We hope the military anthorities will a tend to these ruffians and their abettors as soon as possible, for the citizens of O wen and adjoining counties are living in terror of the arderous accundrels. "It seems," says Professor Wilson "the casiest of all things to be kind and good, and then it is so pleasant." This sentence embodies a reflection specially applicable at this time, when so many opportunities are know to be in truth right and proper. A fair is being carried on at Masonic Temple for the purpose of making additions to the S'. Thomas Orphan Asylum, whereby some, at least, of the many orpban boys of our city may be rescued from vice and misery. Would the r experience the pleasantness of being and good let him go to the fair to-night, and learn how little is required to give pleasure, as well to himself as others.

It is reported that a great many contraband negroes escape to Indiana almost nightly in small boats. The Contraband Commission are collecting large numbers daily, and they are forwarded at once to the Government railroad works.

Major-General Grant will remain in our eity several days before leaving for the front. Recruiting has taken a new start, and the cimated ranks are rapidly filling up.

Refugees from East Tennessee are daily arriving in Nashville. The principal cause of their leaving their beautiful section of the country is the scarcity of provisions. The untry has been pretty well swept, by the ontending armies, of supplies.

Our army has crossed the Teunessee near Larkinsville.

There is no truth in the report of a recent fight at Knoxville. The latest fight at that place was that of Gen. Sturgis, the particulars of which were published a few days since. The train due at New Albany on Monday evening was delayed until last night by the cars running off at Salem. No serious injuries resulted from the accident. Tho trains on this road are ruuning with great precision, and the management is excellent.

By order of General Thomas, transportan for passengers will not be furnished from lattanoega to Knoxville until the railroad is completed. There are no accommodations for travellers at Cuattanooga, and the boats going to London are used exclusively for army uru jes.

The projected railroad between New Albany and Jeffersonville is meeting with great favor, and we are gratified to learn that our neighbors are alive to the advantages that would be derived from such communication between the two places. We hope the work will proceed at once, for it is a want that has long been sorely felt by our neighbors.

SUFFERINGS OF THE PEOPLE OF EAST TEN NESSEE.—In connection with the appeal made in behalf of East Tennessee by Governor Curtin, in his message, the address of Colonal Taylor, late member of Congress from that Taylor, late member of Congress from their section, deserves the attention of the patriotic. Colonel Taylor expects no immediate alequate aid from Congress, and says: "I do not complete the West and North as a beggar, though if necessary to accomplish the object I have at heart, I would crawl on my knees and have at heart, I would crawfou my knies and beg, but to lay faces before a patriolic and magnanimons pecide." To the history of East Tennessee he elequently refers:

"Her people are the descinding of the pioneer herces of North Carolina, Virginia, Penasylvania, Maryland, and New Jersey, and, like their illustrious ancestors, they never have learned how to be false to the Constantion and the Union. The Errest lithers of East Ten. the Union. The first fathers of East Ten-uessee, in the great war for independence, left their homes to the defence of their wives and ought under Shelby and Campbell at King's Monntain for our infant nationality war of 1812-15 they met the foe at Tallal ga Emuckfau, and the Horse-Shoo, and triumpha under Jackson at New Orl ans. Ween it illi ficution threatened, in 1832 3, to cut the Gordian kno. of the Union with the sword, and the hero of the Hermitago invoked 'the Eter nal' to witness that 'the Faderal Ucion must be preserved,' a united amen swelled in the hearts, and hroke from the lips of her people as the voice of one man, and they were ready Terrible Sufferings Under Robel Misrute.—
Colonel Taylor was not remote from the seems he cloquently de cribes, and his picture of the reign of terror and famine at the time of the el conscription has unusual value: "Regiments, companies, and squads of in-fantry and cavalry were as dis ributed over the country, to hunt down and capture, or shoot conscripts. The arms and ammunition of the people had been demanded and spized. Prominent citizens were threatened, and in many instances arrested at their homes in the night season, upon frivolous charges and without charges, harried off without notice or preparation, tried, if tried at all, by a Deputy Provost Marshal or a Military Commission, exparte, and borne away to the lentlisome military prisons of Tuscalcosa, Madisan or Macon, Saulsbury or Richmond, to languish for mouths or years, in disgusting filth and loathsome vermin in many instances to pino away and die by dis-

"Parties charged with hurning railroad bridges were summarily tried by drum-head court-martial, condemaed and hung; others, caught running from the conscript guards, shot in their tracks, while their less fortunate comrades, who were hunted down like wolves and captured, were tied in couples to long rapes and driven like cattle, before the hoofs of cavnliv, many times over frozen roads and icy creeks and rivers, often barefeeted and bleeding, to be confined in conscript cames of in-struction, or tri d ns deserters, and hung or locked up in rebel dungeous. Thus affairs moved on, and terror shock her black banner over all our land; and to make the reign of terror still more terrible, a legion of taway Indians, descendants of the savages who, in other days, were went to lomahawk and scalp the early settlers of Watauga, Nola Chucky, and Holston, were led into our mountains and valleys, and put upon the track of the remaining young men. But to their honor, be it ever remembered, that these half civilized, poor Cherokees proved less savage than their pale-faced companions in arms."

How East Transsee has Suffered Under Both Armies.—From Colonel Taylor's description of Burnside's campaign we make this

"From before Zollicoffer, ten miles above Carter station, Burn ide fell back toward Knoxyille, the Confederates cantiously following. From Buhl's Gap he turned upon them, and drove them again acress the Watanga, and beyond the Vagainaline. Again the Union forces retired, and again the robels advanced, each army supplying itself from the country around. Surging forward and back, these two armies four times advanced and retrograded, widening at each moment the desolation that marked their track. What the reb Is spared the Federals took, and what the Federals left was appropriated by the rebels; and robbers, who found rullying points and sceare hiding places in the mountains that skirt the valleys. came in for their share of the substance of this plundered people, and completed their ruin. Thus our cribs and smoke houses, our barns and dwellings, have heed emptied un l pillaged.
Our women and children have been divested of their wearing apparel, and even the webs of domestic cloth in their loous, destined for winter clothing, have been cut out and carried away. Our tanneries have fared no better, and the limited amount of leather, which might have shod a portion of our women and old m n, has been seized, and they are left barefooted to struggle through the winter."

The Dregs of Affliction.—'Bolieve are, East Tennessee has drank its fall cup of suffering, and nothing seems left her but to drain its very dregs. She has sacrificed everything but loy-ally and life; she has endured everything but distonor and death, and now destitution and famine, fillowed hard by despair and death, a calready trembling on the threshold of her and homes; already entering their doors, to complete the sucrifice and consummats the

"But through all her trials she has remained faithful; persuasions, threats, insuls, arrests, inapri-ontuents, wounds, stripes, privations, punishments, chains, and confications, gibbets and military murders, the clash of arms and the 'territ letess of a mies with tannes,' and all the combined and concentrated horrers of interaccine war marst alled on her battle-torn bosom, and hurling ruin and sor ow in o all for home, have never corrupted her loyalty, nor driven her a line from her devotion to the Government of our fa hers. Unprotected she was by the Government she loved, intrior and isolated, disarmed before she could organize, reign of terror hlack as the night of the Robes pierrian d nasty, her proud me k has felt the he' of ndespotism more he reless and crushing than the power of an autocracy. Her loyal people, because they could not do otherwise, we submitted, for more than two dread ul y ars, to a boadage theil iamost hearts abhors aled the lips, and all hut closed the door of hope. We bre thid but to live, and lived to pray, 'Oh, Lord, how long?" "

on Sunday morning. The premises of Mr. Charlea Wallis, situated on the southwest corner of Fifth-avenue and Forty-fifth street. were entered by burglars. The thieves effected an entrance through a window on the first floor, opening on forty-fith street. Two or Osf three servant girls occupied rooms through which the r bbers passed. The girls were awakened by the noise, but their fears kapt them quiet, and they allowed the robbers to ass on to the room occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Wallis. One of them catered the room, and began to seurch the pockets of Mr. Wallis's pantaloous for money. Mrs. Wallis was awakened by the noise, and, raising herself in hed, discovered by means of a dimly burning gas-light; what was going on. She promptly, and as coolly as possible, inquired what he was doing in the room.

The burglar instantly drew a navy revolver, sointed it at her head, and told her that if she nunde the least noise he would b'ow her brains out. The hero'c woman was not to be thus terrified. Although r peatedly warned that her life and that of her husband would be sucrificed if she made any maise to awken Mr Wallis, who was sleeping at her side, she did not heed the threat. On the contrary, she aroused him from his slumbers as speedily as possible. As Mr. Wallis aross in his ted, the burglar, true to his threat, pointed his pistol at the victim's head and fired. The ball entered on the right side of his nose, just below the eye, and ledged somewhere in his head. The surgeons who are in attendance upon him were unable to find its location up to a late hour last evening. The wound is a very serious one, and little or no hop's are entertaided of his recovery. The burglar, after fitting the pistol, hastily retreated through the window by the way he entered. As he was passing out, his accomplice, who was keeping watch on the out side, fired another pistol, but fortunately thi shot did no harm. It was doubtless fixed for the purpose of intimidating such of the inmates as might be disposed to give the ularm.

Mrs. Wallis, when called upon yesterday by the reporter, said that about two years ago a arglar entered the same window, while the family were asleep, and stole $100 from the pocket of Mr. Wallis, with which he made his escape. From all the tes imony in her possession, she is confident that he is the same man who that Mr. Wallis on Sunday morning Tae

PARATFINE OIL.
THE ATTENTION OF STILERS, ARMY OFFIcers, and nil who are using fine muchinery, is called to his six ye clobrated in bricating oil. For political metals it is far superior to anything now in use, chita and Red Rivers. But few of these are gunboats, and perhaps none are very formidable. This expedition is attended with considerable interest, as it will open up a large section of country and enable considerable, cotton to get to market, provided it is not burned by the rebels.
